DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sams (USPN 5,304,152).

Sams discloses an infusion pump comprising a barrel with a clearance hole that holds a reservoir, a rotating drive screw with exterior threads, and a plunger rod with threads. (Figures 1-3, and entire reference)

As to claim 2, wherein the pump further includes a reservoir with variable volume including a plunger in engagement with the plunger rod, and a locking hub in mechanical connection with the reservoir and the barrel. (Figures 1-3 and entire reference)

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2, 5, 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's amendments of the claims and the arguments, filed 5-19/06, with respect to the claims have been fully considered, and are not persuasive.

5. The examiner interpretation is similar to the given by the applicant. The rotating drive screw is shown in Sams as reference number 22, and the plunger rod is comprise reference numbers 21 and 23 in Sams. The examiner disagrees with the arguments given, especially the arguments drawn to that the rotating screw axis having the same axis as the plunger rod or the barrel. The examiner would like to draw the applicant's attention to figure 3A, wherein the plunger rod is 23 and the drive screw member is 22. Both of these elements have different longitudinal axis, wherein the drive screw is parallel but displaced from the plunger axis. Next we look at figure 1, and from figure 1 it can be determined that the barrel 14 has the same longitudinal axis as the plunger rod 23, which supports the conclusion that the drive screw has a longitudinal axis that is parallel but displaced from the barrel. Therefore, this conclusion is the reason for the rejection and the reason why the examiner determined that the drive screw has a longitudinal axis that is parallel but displaced from the barrel.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of
